

What narratives

DoorDash Girl Team A notes:

Before October 26th:

Phase 1: Primary Narrative Construction (Oct 12–26)

The original video was posted by Olivia Henderson on TikTok on 12th October, and deleted by the TikTok Platform within days for violation of the TikTok community guidelines.

- Later on 13th October, Olivia posted another video, describing DoorDash's inaction and her contact with the police after the incident:
<https://www.tiktok.com/@irlmonsterhighdoll/video/7560766462147743031>
- 5M views, 1940 comments, 32.3k likes,

Narrative Type

Factual reporting (first-person account)

Content Type

Original claim / firsthand reporting

Primary Theme

Victim account & legal escalation

Secondary Theme

Institutional delay (DoorDash response issue)

Manipulation

None detected

Position in Spread

Primary narrative baseline / early origin node

- On 14th October, Oliver Henderson posted another video:
<https://www.tiktok.com/@irlmonsterhighdoll/video/7561254247610797325>, describing how furious she was when DoorDash deactivated her account for no reason and the inaction of the police.
<https://www.tiktok.com/@irlmonsterhighdoll/video/7561254247610797325>
- 31.6M views, 70.9k comments, 3.5M likes

Narrative Type:

Factual reporting + grievance escalation

Content Type:

Original claim

Primary Theme:

Platform retaliation / institutional injustice

Secondary Theme:

Victim silencing

Manipulation:

None detected

Spread Position:

Major amplification trigger node

- On 15th October, a new video posted by Olivia Henderson, and she reiterated her anger over Doordash, with a caption in the middle of the video: "Time to sue Doordash?"
- 5.6M views, 6.1K comments, 165.1K likes

Narrative Type:

Factual reporting + grievance escalation

Content Type:

Original claim

Primary Theme:

Corporate retaliation / institutional injustice

Secondary Theme:

Legal escalation

Manipulation:

None detected

Spread Position:

Post-viral escalation node

Conflict intensification phase

(Not the primary amplification trigger)

- On 15th October, a new video was posted by Olivia Henderson on TikTok. The video content is about her anger towards her TikTok video being banned and receiving strikes for the risk of account ban(no income from the videos). She believes that this is what the unfair “men’s world” causes.

<https://www.tiktok.com/@irlmonsterhighdoll/video/7561497238149565709>

- 7.2M views, 11.3K comments, 116.2K likes

Narrative Type:

Factual reporting + grievance escalation + gendered framing

Content Type:

Original claim (follow-up update)

Primary Theme:

Platform censorship / institutional retaliation

Secondary Theme:

Gender-based systemic injustice (“men’s world” framing)

Manipulation:

None detected

Spread Position

Post-viral escalation node

Narrative expansion phase

(Not the initial trigger, but broadening the grievance frame.)

- Another video is posted on 15th October. Olivia states that she is being punished as a victim by “all sectors involved,” including the police, DoorDash, and TikTok. However, she will continue to post videos about the incident to expose (“dispose”) the man and publicly shame him.<https://www.tiktok.com/@irlmonsterhighdoll/video/7561501045227097358>

- 10.4M views, 9.2K comments, 474.1K likes,

Narrative Type:

Factual reporting + grievance escalation + public exposure framing

Content Type:

Original claim (continued narrative update)

Primary Theme:

System-wide institutional injustice (police + platform + corporation)

Secondary Theme:

Public accountability / exposure of alleged perpetrator

Manipulation:

None detected (based on available information)

Spread Position

Escalation & confrontation phase

Narrative radicalization node

Post-viral grievance consolidation

(Not initial trigger, but intensifying and broadening the conflict.)

- 10.16 October, a video update from Olivia Henderson. She claims that at the same moment the public statement was released, DoorDash sent her an email explaining the reason for her deactivation. She suggests that the explanation came only after the issue became public. She states that “the whole world now knows” why she was deactivated and thanks those who supported her throughout the situation.
<https://www.tiktok.com/@irlmonsterhighdoll/video/7561878075282083085>
- 13.2M views, 398.2K likes, 870 comments

Narrative Type:

Factual reporting + reputational reframing

Content Type:

Original claim (response to corporate statement)

Primary Theme:

Corporate accountability under public pressure

Secondary Theme:

Public vindication / reputational restoration

Manipulation:

None detected

Spread Position

Reframing & stabilization phase
Public response consolidation node

(Not an escalation trigger, but a narrative stabilization moment.)

- The last video posted by Olivia Henderson was on 26th October. Olivia restates the details of the incident, and then posted the public statement by Doordash, and finally thanked people who supported her during the incident.
<https://www.tiktok.com/@irlmonsterhighdoll/video/7565557072557886734>
- 2.4M views, 817 comments, 117.3K likes

Narrative Type:

Factual reporting + defensive clarification + reputational defense

Content Type:

Original claim (response to criticism)

Primary Theme:

Reputational defense / countering accusations

Secondary Theme:

Evidence assertion without disclosure

Manipulation:

None detected

Spread Position

Counter-criticism node
Defensive stabilization phase
Early polarization management stage

Under her video, the top comments are all for her.

Stage 1 – Incident Disclosure (Oct 12–13)

Core Narrative:

“This happened to me.”

- First-person account
- Reported to DoorDash
- Contacted police
- Felt unsafe

Type: Factual reporting

Function: Baseline narrative

This established the original victim narrative.

Stage 2 – Viral Trigger: Institutional Retaliation (Oct 14)

Core Narrative:

“I am being punished as a victim.”

- DoorDash deactivated her account
- Police took no action
- Strong emotional framing

 31.6M views — the largest spike.

Key Finding:

The story went viral not because of the incident itself, but because of perceived corporate injustice.

This is the major amplification trigger node.

Stage 3 – Escalation & Expansion (Oct 15)

The narrative broadened:

- “Time to sue DoorDash?”
- “Men’s world” framing
- Multi-sector punishment (Police + DoorDash + TikTok)
- Threat to publicly expose the man

Shift:

Personal injustice → Systemic injustice

This was emotional intensification, but not a new viral peak.

Stage 4 – Corporate Counter-Narrative (Oct 16)

DoorDash released a public statement:

- Deactivation due to policy violation
- Not due to reporting misconduct

Now two competing narratives existed:

Individual victim narrative

Corporate policy enforcement narrative

This marks the beginning of contested discourse.

Stage 5 – Defensive Stabilization (Oct 16–26)

Olivia:

- Reasserted her version
- Claimed she had evidence (but could not disclose)
- Thanked supporters

Engagement declined. Narrative function shifted to: Reputational defense.

Phase 2: Mutation & Meme Phase (After Oct 26)

After 26 October:

A lot of AI-recreated video went virus on Tiktok, and a lot of people recreated the scenes on Tiktok.

The comments sections are all memes, and a lot of saying she is a liar.

E.g.

https://www.tiktok.com/@vancho.rah/video/7565453335919136013?is_from_webapp=1&sender_device=pc&web_id=7604569677013239310

<https://www.tiktok.com/@pet.house68/video/7565832179272535351?q=doordash%20girl&t=1770612013453>

<https://www.tiktok.com/@rubywithnews/video/7573833687712927006?q=doordash%20girl&t=1770612013453>

Who amplifies it

The Originator:

Olivia Henderson herself.

She:

Created the initial narrative;

Escalated the grievance framing;

Introduced gender framing;

Framed institutional injustice

She controlled Phase 1 (Oct 12–26). After that, control diminished.

Amplifiers

These include:

TikTok users reposting her videos

Commentary accounts summarizing her claims

News-style TikTok accounts (e.g., RubyWithNews)

Users stitching or duetting her videos

Their role:

Increased reach

Reframed tone

Sometimes dramatized content

Amplifiers were critical during the October 14 viral spike.

Counter-Narrative Builders

After October 26, a new group emerged:

Users claiming she was lying

Users claiming she staged it

Users defending DoorDash
Users arguing she violated policy

These actors shifted the narrative from support to skepticism.

They created Narrative polarization.

AI Creators & Meme Accounts

This group fundamentally changed the tone.

AI-generated recreations
Parody reenactments
Meme edits
Dramatic synthetic voiceovers

These accounts:

Detached the story from factual discourse
Turned it into entertainment
Accelerated mockery and doubt

This marks the mutation phase.